Additional Articles Available

Each Law Review member prepares one article each semester. A great deal of painstaking research and effort goes into the development of the student material.

Unfortunately, because the Law Review membership is relatively large and the space available is limited, not all of the student material can be published. The unpublished material, however, may be valuable to the profession, especially to the individual attorney who is involved in research on the particular aspect of the law that the article covers.

Accordingly, the Law Review occasionally publishes a list of these unpublished articles. Copies of the articles may be obtained from the Law Review office for $5.00 each.
